

TRAILS User Agreement

The American Sociological Association (“ASA”) is pleased to provide you with access to its Digital Library, TRAILS: Teaching Resources and Innovations Library for Sociology (“TRAILS”). This User Agreement sets forth the terms and conditions regarding your use of the Digital Library. The ASA has the right to revise the terms of this User Agreement at any time upon posting the revised terms on the Digital Library website. Your use of the Digital Library constitutes your acceptance to the terms of the User Agreement in effect at the time of your use of the Digital Library. In addition, all persons who use or publish TRAILS resources are required to abide by ASA guidelines and ethics codes regarding plagiarism and other ethical issues. These can be found at <http://www.asanet.org/about/ethics.cfm>. If you do not agree to the terms of the User Agreement, do not use the Digital Library.

The Digital Library contains many teaching resources, including syllabi, class activities, assignments, tests, essays, lectures, PowerPoint presentations, film lists, video clips, bibliographies, and website lists (the “Resources”). The copyright owners of the Resources have granted permission for you, as a user of the Digital Library, to reproduce, distribute and publicly display the Resources, in whole or in part, and to modify the Resources and to reproduce, distribute and publicly display modified versions of the Resources for your own purposes. For example, you are free to download a class syllabus that you find on the Digital Library, make changes to the syllabus if you wish, make copies of the syllabus, distribute the syllabus to your students and post the syllabus online. These rights are dependent, however, upon your doing two things: providing proper attribution to the original Resource that you use in the manner provided below, and posting any modifications that you make to original Resources to the Digital Library for use by others.

You agree that whenever downloading Resources you will also download the Resource Cover Page. In addition, you agree that all copies of any Resources that you use, either as provided on the Digital Library or as modified by you, will contain a clear and legible citation following the suggested citation provided to you on the Resource Cover Page.

You agree that, within three months of first using any modified version of any Resource, you will post your modified version to the Digital Library pursuant to the terms of the Digital Library License Agreement. By posting your modifications to the Digital Library, you will be permitting other users of the Digital Library to use your modifications.

The ASA provides the Digital Library “as is” and without any representations or warranties of any kind, including with respect to the accuracy or completeness of the Resources. You hereby waive any claims that you may have against the ASA relating to the use of the Digital Library and any of the Resources. The copyright owners of the Resources, however, have agreed to indemnify you with respect to certain claims relating to your use of the Resources, provided you use the Resources in accordance with the terms of this User Agreement.
